

For Uninsured Parents

Are you a parent without health insurance?

You can still see a doctor, get health insurance for your children, and share your story. Here's what you need to know.

Get the health care you need

Some medical providers, like Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs) and charity care clinics, serve patients who do not have health insurance. If you need to see a doctor, these providers may be able to help you.

Federally Qualified Health Centers

FQHCs offer medical, pre-natal, pediatric, dental, mental health, and pharmacy services. You pay what you can afford, based on your income. Health centers are in most cities and many rural areas. To find an FQHC near you, call 404-659-2886 or go to gaphc.org and click "Find a Health Center".

Georgia Charitable Care Network

GCCN clinics offer a variety of health care services, including medical, dental, vision, mental health, and pharmacy services. However, not all clinics offer all services and not all areas of Georgia have a charitable clinic. To find out if there is a clinic in your area and what services it may offer, call 678-389-3333 or visit charitablecarenetwork.com and click on the "Find a Clinic" tab.

FOR PARENTS

Medicaid

Medicaid offers medical care to very low-income parents and caregivers who:

- Are the parent or caregiver for a child younger than 19;
- Have a yearly income of less than about 35% of the FPL (about $7656 for a family of 3); and
- Are U.S. citizens, certain legal residents, refugees or asylees who live in Georgia

To find out if you qualify or to apply, visit gateway.ga.gov

Private insurance

through the marketplace—if your income is too high to qualify for Parent/Caregiver Medicaid, private insurance plans may be an option for you. Depending on income and family size, you may qualify for financial assistance to help make the plans more affordable.

To find out if you qualify for financial assistance or to enroll:

- Visit healthcare.gov

If you fall in the coverage gap...

The coverage gap means that you do not qualify for Medicaid because your income is too high, but you do not make enough to qualify for financial assistance (also known as subsidies or tax credits) through the Health Insurance Marketplace (also called healthcare.gov).

1 First, check to see if you're in the coverage gap.

How big is your family?	Monthly Income If your monthly income is in this range, you fall in the coverage gap.*	Annual Income If your annual income is in this range, you fall in the coverage gap.*
2 people (just you & a child)	$529 to $1,437	$6,348 to $17,240
3 people	$642 to $1,810	$7,704 to $21,720
4 people	$762 to $2,183	$9,144 to $26,200

All ranges are based on the federal 2020 FPL guidelines.*

Who has the power to fix this problem?

Our elected officials have the power to solve this problem. Governor Kemp and the state legislature have so far rejected the money that is set aside to provide health coverage for Georgians in the gap. But they can still bring Georgia's tax dollars back to our state and close the coverage gap.
